About Us

The Group, LLC is a small business providing results-oriented Information Technology solutions for the Federal Government. Since 2010 we have engineered new systems from the ground-up and redesigned existing deficient systems for our valued customers. By combining custom development, systems architecture and implementation expertise, The Group delivers flexible, robust, innovative solutions in the areas of data integration/migration, database modeling, information access, geospatial interfacing, and business intelligence, whenever and wherever it is needed. The Group also provides full systems development life cycle support, as well as security assessment support. Our staff have worked closely with our valued customers to consistently provide an effective project and program management framework, ensuring timely deliverables that meet or exceed functional and budgetary requirements.

Core Competencies

Business Intelligence

We will organize your data to support your mission-critical goals and help your organization run smoothly using BI approaches that optimally exploit and "drill down" into your business information. Our BI solutions will effectively support your primary missions, improve decision-making, cut costs, and help identify new business opportunities.

Data Analytics

Our team has years of experience utilizing standard and custom tools and techniques to guide an organization to identify, extract and manipulate data to exploit critical business information. We have worked with multiple tool sets providing access to this data via web interfaces including mobile platforms.

Database Warehousing

We can organize and analyze your data and create well-tuned data models so you can focus more on your primary business functions. We can also help you maintain historical records using state-of-the-art approaches and technology.

Management Analyst Support

Our team of consultants and business analysts provide integrated consulting services aimed at optimizing organization performance. Our team analyzes data and business processes and engages with key organizational units and managers to collect, analyze, visualize and share key data and performance indicators. Using multiple data analysis tools and methodologies, we translate data into quantifiable results- streaming processes and increasing operational efficiency. We identify problems and provide effective solutions to overcome organizational and systematic issues for sustained change and improvement.

Website Development

Leveraging our experience creating websites for clients, we can design powerful website solutions for your organization or business. We have experience in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript as well as designing and supporting content management systems like Drupal and WordPress.

Application Development and Support

Our application development is top of the class. We use technologies and development methodologies that allow us create powerful, efficient, and reliable applications that allow for effective continuous maintenance. Our approach follows industry standard best development and management practices and allows for highly successful implementations of robust, user-friendly applications.

Past Performance

Our team has designed and implemented numerous reporting and visualization environments within the federal government that integrate countless data sources across multiple agency programs. Our solutions provide oversight and transparency, empowering management to make improvements and take action to maintain and improve agency goals. Our clients include state and federal government agencies including:
